PUBLICATIONS.

TO REAL ESTATE OWNERS.

All persons in Virginia having Real Estate—such as FARMS, MILLS, FACTORIES, TOWN PROPERTIES and TIMBER LANDS—that they wish to sell, are advised to advertise the same, first, in their own local journals, and next in the HAGERSTOWM MAIL, a newspaper that published at Hagerstown, Md,, by DECHERT & WASON. The tide of emigration is now rolling on to Virginia—our Maryland and Pennsylvania farmers are selling off their farms at high prices and seeking new homes in our sister State. Those who emigrate, are as a general thing, men of muscle and means, and will aid materially in developing the great natural wealth of "the mother of States." We are publishing the MAIL at a Central point, the very best at which to advertise land. It is very popular as a Real Estate Advertising medium, its pages frequently containing from three to six columns of this class of advertising. We have numerous orders for the paper from time to time, from persons in Maryland and at a distance, who merely desire it on account of its Land advertising.

Our terms are moderate, and we will take pleasure in answering all letters of enquiry:

Advertisements can be sent to us through the editors of the Commonwealth or direct, as the parties may prefer. Address;

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER FOR THE CAMPAIGN!

A VALUARLE CAMPAIGN PAPER!

CIRCULATION OF POLITICAL INFORMATION!

The campaign upon which we are about to enter is by far the most important and momentous in which the people of our country have ever been called upon to participate. The life of the nation, the liberties of the people, the rights of persons and property are all in jeopardy. An unscrupulous faction in Congress is striving to usurp all the powers of the government. The PEOPLE alone have the remedy in their hands.—To do this promptly and effectually they need all the information that can be furnished them.

To supply this need we have concluded to put the "Weekly Intelligencer" for the Campaign at such a price as will place it within the reach of all.

It will be supplied to Clubs of Ten or more to the same Post Office at Fifty Cents per copy for the Campaign, or for any four months prior to Jan. 1, 1869.

Published at Washington city, the great political center of the country, we shall enjoy peculiar facilities for obtaining and presenting to our readers the earliest and most reliable information and to keep our patrons thoroughly posted in regard to events of political importance.

We call upon our friends throughout the country to exert themselves to push this circulation of the Campaign Weekly Intelligencer to the fullest possible extent. If they will do this service, we pledge ourselves to do our part of the work with all the energy and ability and industry we can command.

POETRY.

GOD SPEED THE PLOUGH.

God speed the plough-share! Tell me not
Disgrace attends the toil
Of those who plough the dark green sod,
Or till the fruitful soil.
Why should the honest ploughman shrink
From mingling in the van
Of learning and of wisdom, since
'Tis mind that makes the man.

God speed the plough-share, and the hands
That till the fruitful earth;
For there is in the world so wide
No gem like honest worth.
And, though the hands are dark with toil,
And flushed the manly brow,
It matters not, for God will bless
The labors of the plough.

FARM AND HOUSE.

SHELTER FOR STOCK.—During August and September we shall probably have much hot and sultry weather. Therefore, give some attention to your stock by preparing a shed in the pasture, as a shelter from the scorching heat of September sun. Trees are more or less common in all pastures, which afford good shade, but cheap temporary sheds are even better, and especially if there is no other protection. An open shed through which the air will freely pass, and near a brook if possible, should be erected and provided with boxes for holding salt, that the cattle may partake of it at pleasure. In the middle of the hot days they will not eat, and how much better and more humane for the farmer to build such a shed in which they can lay and rest themselves. Sheep especially, as well as milch cows, need such a protection. Cattle should also be stabled, these nights in August and September, in a cool and well ventilated place. A shed built in a pasture costs but a trifle, and could be taken down at will. —Dixie Farmer

DON'T TRY TO WINTER TOO MUCH STOCK.—Let every farmer now prepare either to get rid of his surplus stock or to store enough feed to keep it all through the winter. It is astonishing how many farmers there are who habitually undertake to get through the winter with more stock than they can properly feed till grass grows again. If you have ten, fifteen, twenty or thirty head of horses and cattle, and are not positively certain that you have enough bay, straw, &c., to keep them all in good order till spring, dispose of them before cold weather sets in. Make arrangements now, so that you will not be caught with your barn-yard full of lean cattle and your mows empty in the months of February and March.

PICKING PEACHES.—Peaches should not be picked before they are ripe. Picked at the proper time it will require no pulling to sever them from the stem. A slight twist will bring them. Always have a ladder of the proper length for use in the orchard. Never climb into the tree and stand on the limbs. Handle the peaches as though they were eggs. Before they are sent to market take out all the inferior fruit. If not more than half the crop is good, more will be made by sending the good half by itself than by allowing any of the bad to be mixed with it.

EARLY PLOWING.—Early plowing for wheat gives time, where oats stubble is plowed under, for the oats to come up, so that it is killed by the cultivator or plow before seeding time. Almost every advantage is on the side of early plowing, yet too many of our farmers put off their plowing until just as they wish to sow ther grain.

THIS is the best season of the year in which to kill elder bushes, briers, thorn bushes, and all kinds of sprouts and bushes which detract from the profit or mar the beauty of the farm. Cutting honey locusts close to the ground in August will kill them.

The veterinary editor of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times recommends the following for scratches in horses: Take sulphate of zinc, one drachm; glycerine, two ounces; apply every morning.

There is no better period in the year than August for killing the Canada thistle.

It is said that plant lice will produce ten generations in one season.

CREAM PUDDING.—Boil a quart of cream, with a blade of mace and half a nutmeg grated; let it cool, and beat up eight eggs and three whites; strain them well, and mix a spoonful of flour into them, also a quarter of a pound of almonds, blanched and beaten fine, with a spoonful of orange-flower or rose water; then by degrees mix in the cream and beat all well together; take a thick cloth, wet it and flour it well, pour in the mixture, tie it close, and boil half an hour; let the water boil fast; when it is done, turn it into the dish, pour melted butter over, with a little sack, and throw fine sugar all over.

ITALIAN BREAD.—One pound of butter, one pound of powdered loaf-sugar, one pound two ounces of flour, twelve eggs, half a pound of citron and lemon peel. Mix as for a pound cake. If the mixture begins to curdle, which it is most likely to do from the quantity of eggs, add a little of the flour.—When the eggs are all used, and it is light, stir in the remainder of the flour lightly.—Bake it in a long, narrow tins, either papered or buttered; first put in a layer of the mixture, and cover it with the peel cut in large thin slices; proceed in this way until it is three parts full, and bake it in a moderate oven.

HOW TO CLEAR SOAPSUDS.—It is well known that a little alum dissolved is very effective in clearing muddy water. In a place where water was scarce, a little alum was dissolved in hot water, and thrown into a tub of thick soapsuds. In a short time the soap curdled, and, accompanied by the muddy particles, sank to the bottom, leaving the water above perfectly clear, pure, and devoid of smell. This water was found very useful for washing clothing in again, when poured off the sediment.

RICE POUND CAKE.—One pound of butter, one pound of powdered loaf-sugar, twelve ounces of flour, half a pound of ground rice, and twelve eggs. Mix as Italian bread, and bake it in a papered hoop. If it is required with fruit, put two pounds of currants, three-quarters of a pound of peel, one nutmeg, grated, and a little pounded mace.

APPLE FLOAT.—Take six large apples, pare, slice, and stew them in as much water as will cover them. When well done, press them through a sieve, and make very sweet with crushed or loaf-sugar. While cooling, beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, and stir in the apples; flavor with lemon or or vanilla. Serve with sweet cream. Quite as good as peaches and cream.

A GOOD MEAT CAKE.—Mince the lean of cold lamb or veal very finely; soak a large slice of bread in boiling milk; mash it, and mix it with the minced meat; also a beaten egg, some boiled chopped parsley and thyme, a little grated lemon peel, pepper and salt. Make it into small flat cakes, and fry them in butter or lard. Serve them up dry or with good gravy.

SELECT STORY.

Couldn't Afford to Marry

A STORY FOR MARRIAGEABLE YOUNG WOMEN.

It was noticed among the friends of Mr. George Lane that, for some cause unknown to them, a sober hue had recently fallen on his thoughts.

The reason was inferred, and correctly. Arrows from a pair of bright eyes had wounded him, and the pain found no abatement night or day. Was the maiden coy or unkind? No—the maiden was familiar and tender. There was healing in the eyes that shot forth arrows.

And the pain found no abatement night nor day? None! George Lane was no blind lover, ready to risk all consequences in pursuit of any object—but a sensible young man who counted the cost. This was the reason of his trouble. Love is sweet, but life is a thing of sober earnest; and as George put the love and life together, taking things as they were, he could not see how love was to leave any permanent sweetness.

An intimate friend, holding him by the hand one day, said:

"George, my dear fellow, what has come over you? I don't believe you have smiled for a month. Are you in love?"

"Yes," was the frank reply.

"Aha! a sickness of the mind. Well, I am glad to know that it is nothing more serious. Love wounds to heal. If, as the poet says,

'Keen transport throbs through every vain,' it is also true that we never knew

'so sweet a pain.'"

"There is no sweetness in my case," said the young man. "The pain is very sharp, and there was no soothing medicine on the arrow point."

"Then the maiden is unkind?"

"No."

"She loves you in return?"

"If I have any skill in reading eyes."

"What then? Are her parents unwilling?"

"I have never asked them."

"You are a strange lover to look so woebegone. Where rests that trouble?"

"There is much beyond love," said Lane.

"Yes."

"Marriage and cost of living."

"True, but you have a good salary.—Has the young lady nothing?"

"She has a father who is doing an excellent business, but the family live at an expense which must cover, if not more than exhaust, all the profits"

"Who is the young lady? I will not betray your confidence."

"The youngest daughter of Abraham West."

"Hardware merchant!"

"The same."

"I know her, and a sweet girl is Nellie West. Why George, she's the very one for you. And you have found favor in her eyes? I congratulate you."

"You needn't then," was the sombre-faced reply of Lane, "for I am not witless enough to bare my neck to the halter of matrimony, if the act is to bind me to a perpetual serfdom."

"What do you mean?"

"Simply, that the manner in which Mr. West has raised his daughters unfits them for the positions of wives of young men in my condition. They have the education, the tastes, and the accomplishments we desire and must have; but their habits and expectations are fatal dowries for any poor young man to accept. They have no fortune to bring their husbands, and yet must be supported in comparative elegance. The idea of useful employment does not seem to have entered their minds. Work, in their view, involves something of degradation. Ah, well! I must dismiss a fond illusion that was sweet while it lasted. I shall go no further in this unsafe direction. Some other man, bolder, or less inclined to count the cost, must win consent from a heart it would be a life-long happiness to call my own."

"Nonsense, George," replied his friend; "if the young lady really loves you, she will adapt herself to your circumstances. Nellie is a charming girl. Press your suit, and after gaining her consent, talk over life's sober realities with her. She has sense and right feeling, and will readily comprehend how much happiness is involved in your prudential ideas. A woman who loves a man well enough to marry him, will cheerfully accommodate herself to his circumstances."

"Accommodate!" exclaimed the young man, curling his lips. "I don't like the word. It hurts my pride."

"Pride is never a good counsellor, friend George."

"My manhood, then. It hurts my manhood. A young woman without a dollar in the world 'accommadate' herself to the circumstances of a young man whose income is twelve hundred a year! You can't reconcile me to the case under that plea. My pride, manliness, self love or self-esteem—as you will—revolts against humiliation. No, no—George Lane has independence as well as prudence and thinks their counsels worth heeding."

"While I think," answered the friend, "that George Lane is a too little high-strung for the case under consideration, I know Nellie very well, and think her a sensible girl. True, the way her parents have conducted her home education is not favorable to just views in life.—But love is clear-sighted and strong-hearted. Take her out of her present false relation to society, and she will make you, I am sure, a good wife in every respect."

"No, sir," was firmly answered.—"Even as I talk with you, and listen to what you say, I grow more resolute in purpose to recede from a dangerous position. If Nellie was alone in the world, I might act differently. But look at the case as it stands and see what risks are involved There are two older sisters, both married; and their husband's noses, to use a homely phrase, are well down upon the grindstone, and likely to remain there. Already both have gone through the ordeal of a fall in business—and no wonder."

Not being able as clerks to maintain their domestic establishments, they were foolish enough to set up in imitation of other people as silly as themselves; they must have stores of their own, from the income of which they drew with such unscrupulous hands, that more than all the profits were consumed in costly living."

"Somehow or other, in their breakdown they have managed to keep their fine furniture and houses, and still live before the world in what to me is shameless extravagance. Both are clerks again; but how they manage to keep up appearances as they do passes my comprehension. I have met their wives a few times at Mr. West's, and they hold their heads as high as queens. I am nobody in their estimation. Why, the jewelry, lace and other showy things they flaunt in people's eyes so shamelessly—seeing that somebody else besides their husbands have paid for them—cost more than third of my year's salary."

"But you have nothing to do with these ladies," interposed his friend.

"True, and I don't mean to have anything to do with them. But the case would have another bearing were I a brother-in-law. I would have their bad influences, operating on my wife. She must have as costly outfitting as they.—She must have as fine a house to live in, and as fine furniture to display to her friends; and my nose must come down to a grindstone, like the noses of their unfortunate husbands. I've gone over the matter twenty times or more, and can see no difference. It won't do, and there is no use in trying to harmonize things that are utterly incongruous."

"Take another view. Suppose Nellie came into my views of these things, and turned herself away from these allurements. Suppose we, like sensible people live below income, and set ourselves to make provision for a time when expenses would be greater. I would gradually accumulate; set up business, perhaps, and rise into a position of some influence in the way of money matters. Then I must consent to be ruined, or written down as a miser or a churl by the whole family.—Papa lives on the extension principle, just making both ends meet, as I infer. Well, tight times come every now and then. He has failed once in life and may fail again.—When the strain equals the resistance, a slight increase of force snaps shafts of timber. If papa gets into trouble and son-in-law is all right, son-in-law must go to the rescue, sink or swim. It won't answer, you see; I've counted the cost, and think it too great; have looked over the hedge before leaping and am afraid of the ditch on the other side."

"I see how it is," answered the friend, "you have large caution."

"Am I not right?"

"Perhaps so. But lovers, whose hearts are as much interested as yours seems to be, are not apt to throw prudential reasons of this character in the way of their happiness. They are usually inclined to take counsel of love alone."

"I have seen pictures of love blindfolded, but I think love a false god."

"As you will," said the friend. "But this I know; if my heart was interested in Nellie, I would never abandon her on the plea that you have advanced; at least not before I was well assured that the false life, which, by a kind of domestic necessity she has thus far led, had so far fostered pride and vanity as to deprave her understanding. Be assured, my dear George, that in this you sin not against your own heart, but the maiden."

"I spent an evening with her last week," he replied. "I went with my mind more than half made up to let my lips betray my feelings. It so happened that she was not alone. A young lady was her guest—a very sprightly outspoken, critical, rather sharp tongued girl of eighteen or twenty—smart enough for sixteen. People and things were talked about with a flippancy and freedom neither charitable nor delicate. Among other subjects the marriage of a friend came under discussion, and the well or ill chances of the case was settled in a manner that made my cheek burn."

"'I never thought Amy the simpleton to get married in that mean sort of way,' remaked the young lady. 'She must have wanted a husband. If a man cannot do better by me than that, I'd advise him to give my door a wide berth."

"Nellie laughed at her friend, and returned a few assenting remarks that stung me to the quick. The present of a ring by the young husband was remarked upon. Nellie said it was an emerald. But her friend pronounced it green glass, adding that nothing but a diamond would have suited her ideas. I waited in uncomfortable suspense for Nellie's response. It came in these words, 'Nothing but diamonds for me!"

"Thoughtlessly said, George," remarked his friend. "You take to seriously the light speeches of girls, who often talk without thinking."

"If it was jesting," answered Lane, "the subject was unfortunate at the time. But this was not all. My ears are quick; and I took in every inflection of voice. Nellie said many other things connected with the subject of their young friend's marriage to a poor young man who could not afford her a respectable place in society, that it would be folly for me to forget. When I left her house that evening, I drew a veil over her image in my heart, and I have tried not to lift that veil since. The pain it is costing me I have not been entirely able to conceal, as witness your observation of a change in my appearance. But I am strong enough to do what reason tells me is right. No word or intimation of what was in my heart have I passed to the young lady, so that I can turn from her without dishonor. Heaven send her a happy lot in life.

The voice of George Lane faltered a little on the closing sentence. He was fully in earnest, as shown by his subsequent conduct. More deeply than he had imagined was the heart of Nellie interested, as her pale face, dreamy eyes, and quiet manner long afterwards witnessed. But he did not return. Two years afterwards she married, beginning life with a young husband just in business, who drew from his light capital two thousand dollars to furnish his house in a style suited to the social grade in which she had been moving. In three years, extravagant living had consumed more than all he was worth, and under the pressure of a "tight money market" he failed and was sold out by the sheriff, Nellie being forced to go back with her two children to her father's house. The husband, in a fit of desperation, went off to California, and died from sickness and exposure among the mines.

In the meantime, George Lane, who could never obliterate Nellie's image from his heart, continued to live a single life. He was now in business, and gradually accumulated property. The death of her husband, and in a few months afterward the death of her father, awakened anew his interest. He knew she was poor and dependent; and he learned incidentally, with pain, that since her father's death she was living in the house of a brother-in-law, who was not able to support his family. That one still dear to him should be thus dependent and, as he felt, humiliated, hurt the young man. He could not bear the thought, and began turning over in his mind one suggestion after another, looking to her relief. But her consideration of delicacy and propriety were in the way. He felt he could do nothing.

One morning he met her in the street. He was walking with his eyes on the pavement, thinking of Nellie, when, looking up suddenly, he saw her at a distance approaching. She was poorly clad, and had a bundle on her arm, which Lane recognized at a glance as work from a clothing store.

Their eyes met and rested on each other. Lane made a motion as if about to speak; Nellie dropped her veil over face and moved on with a quicker pace. Ere the veil fell he saw an expression in her eyes and on her changed and wasted countenance, that filled his heart with the tenderest and saddest feelings. What a history of suffering was revealed.

The rest need not be told. If Nellie lost her lover when skies were bright, she found him when the rain was falling into the dark days of her life, and when painful experience had made her vision clear.

A fossil elephant has been dug up at Easton, Md. Many portions are nearly perfect, including a tusk eight feet long.

Commonwealth.

HARRISONBURG, VA.

Wednesday, - - - August 26, 1868.

RAN. D. CUSHEN, Editor.

National Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT,

HORATIO SEYMOUR,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

GEN. FRANK. P. BLAIR,

OF MISSOURI.

HON GEO. H. PENDLETON, a Democrat of the old pattern, and who came very near being the nominee of the late National Democratic Convention, is doing yeoman service in the present Presidential campaign. He is one of the best "stumpers" in this country, is a very effective speaker, and, withal, a most polished gentleman. In a recent speech he made the following capital hit, which will be appreciated by those who are ruled by "supplementary" acts:

"Look at the reconstruction act of March 2, 1867—the supplementary supplement to a supplementary act. [Merriment.] They say to the South, "you have got to take military power or congressional power—which will you have?" It was a pretty bad alternative—very much like the old darkey preacher's road—one led to destruction and the oder to damnation." [Peals of laughter.]

THERE was a great Democratic demonstration in Washington on the night of the 20th. The Jackson Democratic Association dedicated their headquarters, and throughout the evening much enthusiasm was manifested. Many ladies were present, and speeches were made by a number of prominent gentlemen, amongst whom were Hon. Montgomery Blair, and Judge Moore of Ky.

THERE is another revolution in Mexico. Did killing Maximillian, the only real ruler Mexico has had for twenty or thirty years, cure the evils we were told it would? The American government murdered the late Emperor, and then coolly turned aside and let the mongrels kill each other to their hearts content.—Seward and his Mexican policy are humbugs.

THE Rads don't intend to let Virginia vote, neither upon the constitution nor at the Presidential election. "Trust in God and justice, and keep your powder dry," is our advice. There is a time coming when we will permitted to do as we have a right to do.

THE Germans of Richmond are taking up immigration projects. There is plenty of room in Virginia for a million strong arms. Let all come who can and will, and help those who can't, is our advice.

THE custom receipts from August 10th to 10th were over three and a half millions of dollars. I we got $50,000,000 every week, the Radicals could easily get through with it.

A Radical ratification meeting was held at Atlanta, Ga., on the 18th. The crowd consisted of 700 negroes and 3 white men. Joe Brown and Josh Hill were there.

THE Democrats of Alabama have chosen Electors and are determined to vote at the Presidential election. "There life in the old land yet."

BRICK POMEROY'S new paper, "The Democrat," has appeared. It is a success. It is published in New York city.

A Telegram from Washington, says: "There are 4,000 vacant offices under the new tax bill." What does it mean?

"IMPEACHMENT" Ashley has been nominated for re-election to Congress, from the Toledo, (Ohio) district.

THE Democrats of the third district in Ohio, have nominated Hon. C. L. Vallandigham for Congress.

IT is said the shoe business of Lynn, Massachusetts, has been rarely, if ever, better than it is now.

AN attempt was made to burn Lanesboro, Anson county, N. C., on Sunday night last.

A Telegram states that the cattle disease has found its way to Massachusetts. Who cares?

THE DEAD LION.

Even Radical newspapers take the liberty of kicking the dead lion of their party. They had not the manliness to confront Mr. Stevens whilst living, but followed wherever he led like "dumb, driven cattle;" now that he is dead, and they discover the ideas which governed his political life are unpopular, there are none too mean to malign his character both as a man and a politician. For shame!

That representative republican paper, the Albany Evening Journal, in a leading editorial on "The Death of Mr. Stevens," discourses as follows:

"Politically and morally, Mr. Stevens was a striking illustration of his own theory of personal right and individual independence. He did not often attend public worship. Having separated a handsome mulatto woman from her husband, he deemed it his duty to provide for her; and their relations was such as to almost entirely exclude him from other female society, a fact which never seemed to give him the slightest concern.—He was an inveterate gamester on a small scale; and almost invariably, after a day's duty in the House, would drop in at a favorite casino and win or lose fifty dollars, that being the average limit of his betting."

The N. Y. World, commenting on the above, says:

"The Journal knew the man, and has written freely what it knew. But this frankness gains added force when it is remembered that the man whose portrait is thus truly pictured by his own partisans was the acknowledged leader among leaders in the party which claims to be pre-eminently the party of moral ideas, and which Henry Wilson, of Massachusetts, has asserted to be founded upon the "Rock of Ages."

THE "LOYAL" MILITIA.

The "loyal" militia of the South, (composed of negroes only, of course,) is about played out, much to the gratification of every decent citizen.

Gen. Schofield, Secretary of War, has refused to give government arms to these bodies of organized devils, and justly too. In reply to the requests for arms from some of the "Southern" Governors (?) he has issued a circular letter from the War Department, including the following extract from the army appropriation bill passed at the last session of Congress.

"Be it enacted, That all militia forces now organized or in service in either of the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, and Texas be forthwith disbanded, and that the further organization, arming, or calling into service of the said militia forces, or any part thereof, is hereby prohibited under any circumstances whatever until the same shall be authorized by Congress

The Secretary published the above extract as an explanation of his refusal to furnish arms to the militia of the southern States on application of their Governors, and also for the information of officers of the army now on duty in the South.

We want no "loyal" militia in the South. We want justice, for our people, and moderation and wisdom in the national councils—but so long as Radical rule continues we have no hope of either. However, the approaching doom that awaits the Radical party in this country may frighten the miscreants into something like propriety, and after all its last days may be its best. We hope so.

A defalcation was discovered in Philadelphia last week involving perhaps half a million of dollars.

The defalcation was unearthed by the flight of Charles Cabot, senior member of the firm of Cabot & Co. A dispatch states "he left behind an unredeemed debt that will probably, it is now said, amount to from $500,000 to $1,000,000."

A Philadelphia paper says: "The alledged defaulter occupied one of the highest positions in the mercantile community, and his drafts to any amount would have been honored without the slightest hesitation. He was the agent of a number of our most wealthy country gentlemen. That the estimate of his indebtedness is not over-estimated may be gathered from the fact that to one firm is owing the sum of $107,000, while it is further alledged that he owed every firm with which he had dealings."

LARGE SALE.—The Washington Express says that the Secretary of War has concluded a purchase of 430 acres of land lying adjacent to Fortress Monroe, of Mr. Jos. Segar, which is designed for the use of the artillery school established at that point. It is said that nothing but a pecuniary, pressure, brought on by the war, induced Colonel Segar to part with the property, and at a price ($200 per acre) far below its real value. The farm is one of the most delightful in tidewater Virginia, but the necessities of the new artillery school demanded the purchase.

THE Franco Prussian war is a humbug. Nothing of the sort is going to happen.

THE Lynchburg News has improved under its new management. Success to it.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, ENG., August 24.—The Foreign office has advices that the reported attempt to assassinate Queen Victoria originated from an insane Englishman approaching the Queen's apartments.

Dispatches from Calcutta report the observations of the eclipse as satisfactory in the highest. The sky was cloudless, and the phenomena plainly visible throughout India, except at Bombay, where a drizzling rain prevailed.

TELEGRAMS.

ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, August 21.—A telegraphic dispatch has been received by the Chairman of the Radical Executive committee, from Hon. W. B. Jones, who was selected as the Grant and Colfax elector in the 4th district, who declines to serve. He has come out for Seymour and Blair.

Hon. Thomas Masterson has abandoned Grant and Colfax and declared for Seymour and Blair.

The following card is published in the Radical organ of this city: "In consequence of the want of patronage sufficient to meet the expenses of the office, I am compelled to suspend the publication of the "State Sentinel." Since the establishment of the paper, going on two years, I have sustained the publication of the paper from my own private means. This I cannot do any longer. I must abandon the business, and go into some pursuit that will at least furnish me sufficient income to meet the outlay.

"JOHN HARDY."

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

August 21.—Gen. R. E. Lee arrived here last night and was received with much enthusiasm. Gov. Pickens, of S. C., Gov. Letcher, of Va., Hon. A. H. H Stuart, Gen. Echols and Gen. J. R. Anderson, of Va., Hon. Linton Stephens, of Ga., and Gen. Beauregard, are here. Secretary Browning is expected here Saturday. Hon. A. H. Stephens, and Gens. Longstreet and Ewell will arrive tomorrow night. Gen. Rosecranz, Minister to Mexico, will arrive here tonight. The meeting between him and General Lee, it is "understood," is in reference to matters of great importance to the country.

THE INDIANS.

ST. LOUIS, August 18.—A letter from Ellsworth, Kansas, August 14th, says that on the 12th a band of some two hundred Indians appeared at Spitman creek, about 16 miles northwest of Ellsworth. Arriving at the house of Mr. Shaw, they caught and beat him severely and drove him away. They then caught Mrs. Shaw and her sister and violated their persons. Some thirty or more of them continued to abuse these helpless women until long after they were insensible, and then destroying the property, left them for dead. They then proceeded to the residence of Mr. Smith, beat him in the same manner, and violated the person of his wife, leaving her in a very critical condition. It is feared that the women subjected to these outges will not recover.

They met and abused a number of persons by beating, and after destroying all within their reach left for the north. These poor women say that for five or six hours they were subjected to ill-treatment, and they show marks of the most cruel usage, made by being beaten in attempting to defend themselves.

A detachment of twenty soldiers was sent after the Indians from Fort Harker, accompanied by fifty or sixty settlers. On Wednesday night they sent in for reinforcements, and on Thursday a full company, under Col. Bentine, went over. The latest report was that Bentine had come upon the Indians, who had some ten or fifteen women surrounded in a house, and that he had driven the redskins away, but whether he killed any of them or not was not known.—These are probably the same Indians who have been murdering and committing other outrages on Solomon creek.

INDIAN OUTRAGES.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—General Sherman telegraphs that the troubles on Saline and Solomon rivers were caused by the "Dog Soldier" Indians of the Cheyenne tribe. Gen. Sheridan has gone to the scene of the outrages with plenty of soldiers.

The Indians are now retreating toward Arkansas, with the military and volunteers in pursuit. The Indians abandoned several white children in the woods, but still have six white women prisoners.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—Gen. Sherman's dispatches corroborate the newspaper accounts of the Indian outrages. Gen. Sheridan telegraphs him that they are too horrible for detail. Sherman directs him to follow and administer summary punishment.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—Brevet Maj. Gen. A. Baird is ordered to report to Gen Meade for duty as Inspector General.

General B. F. Smith, of the regular army, is dead.

Solicitor Binkley, of the Revenue Department, thinks that when a distillery and rectifying establishment have illegal proximity, the establishment which first complies with the details of the law is entitled to the locality.

ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, August 20.—The Democratic State Convention has nominated a full electoral ticket.

Ten thousand people, with cannon, transparencies, banners, etc., are honoring Seymour and Blair. The whole city is illuminated.—Ex Governor Watts, Alexander White, J. T. Morgan, and several colored men, have addressed the vast and enthusiastic crowd.

IDAHO.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 20.—Idaho advices of August 14th, report Judge Schaffer, Democrat, elected to Congress by 600 majority.—[One after another the States and Territories fall into line and declare for Seymour and Blair, Democracy and the Union Roll on the ball.—ED]

VIRGINIA.

ALEXANDRIA, August 20.—A dispatch from Charlottesville says the rotunda of the University of Virginia accidentally caught fire yesterday, but was soon extinguished. Loss about $500. The library was considerably damaged.

ALEXANDRIA, August 22.—Judge Underwood, in court, directs that the Alexandria and Washington railroad be restored to the lessees under requisite bonds. The trains will resume running on Monday.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, August 22.—The petition of R. E. Lester, claiming the seat in the Senate made vacant by the resignation of the negro Bradley, was granted—ayes, 18; nays, 11—and Lester was sworn in.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The Board of Councilmen, fifteen in number, were arrested to-day by the Sheriff for contempt of the Supreme Court. The contempt was laying the Nicholson pavement on Thirty-third street in disregard of an injunction of the court, granted at the prayer of William B. Astor.

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, August 22.—The cattle disease has appeared here. Seventeen cows belonging to one dairy have been stricken with it, and are dying rapidly.

MORE BLOOD NEEDED.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Intelligencer says:

More blood is needed for Radical capital. The supply furnished by the killing of Ashburn is about exhausted,—Reports of Democrats murdering negroes are abundant, but the names, time and place cannot be given. A real, substantial, horrid assassination is needed. If the Democrats fail to get up one soon, it is probable the Radicals will furnish it themselves. Mr. Adkins, in his remarks this morning in the Senate, let the cat out of the bag It is just what everybody knew before, but it is the first time we have heard the policy of the party openly avowed by one of its leaders. He said: "The death of Republicans by midnight assassins would result in great good to the cause. The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church." He went so far as to express a willingness to offer himself a sacrifice, if no worthier subject could be found.

The questions now become very pertinent: Who killed Ashburn? Did he receive his quietus at the hands of his own party?

States.	Dem.	Rad.
Alabama	4	2
Arkansas	3	0
Florida	1	0
Georgia	5	2
Louisiana	3	2
North Carolina	4	3
South Carolina	2	2
Total	23	11

If there is any change in these figures he is strongly of the opinion that it will be in favor of the Democrats.

The Radical organ in Colfax's own county, in Indiana, complains "that the Republicans are in a state of universal lethargy, and have not waked up to the work that lies before them."

A few days ago the New York Herald repeated its announcement that the next presidential election would go against the Radicals. "In the North," said that journal, "The vote against the Repuelicans will be very heavy."

Maj. Randolph, of the Peidmont Land Agency, has returned from an extensive trip through Pennsylvania, and reports a considerable increase in the desire among Pennsylvanians to purchase land in and immigrate to Virginia. He says it was conceded that Pennsylvania will go for Seymour and Blair with a sweeping majority.

A late number of the N. Y. Herald holds that "the popular impulse against the Radicals is deeper than most men thought, and it is doubtful if there is any power to stop its progress."

The Radicals tax the people to the extent of nearly five hundred millions of dollars per annum and then declare that our finantial condition is glorious. Too much so.

The inventor is making efforts to form a stock company to set up the machinery.

The proprietors of the Baden-Baden gambling-house sustained heavy losses at the beginning of July, in consequence of the extraordinary luck which an old lady from England had at the roulette table. She won in five days nearly a hundred thousand florins, and then instead of losing it again, as the proprietors of the house had fondly hoped, she went to a banking-house, bought a draft for the whole amount and left the place.

Our old fellow citizen—Joseph Newcomer—has obtained a patent right for destroying the Hessian Fly in wheat. With the details of the patent we are not at this time conversant, but it is of so much importance as to merit the attention of every farmer, at once, as we infer the remedy is to be applied before the wheat is put in the ground. The theory is that the germ of the Fly is deposited in the wheat grain when the wheat is in a doughy state and is sown with it. This germ can be discerned with a magnifying glass Mr. Newcomer is now a citizen of Baltimore.—Hagerstown Mail.

When the radicals are asked why negro barbarism has been adopted as the basis of their Congressional reconstruction, their only answer is, "Let us have peace."

Grant recently visited Kentucky, was in several counties, and made one or two speeches, but wherever he went the Democracy made extraordinarily large gains.

BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET.

THURSDAY, August 20, 1868.

BEEF CATTLE.—The offerings at the scales during the past week amounted to 1,575 head. HOGS.—The arrivals during the past week have been about sufficient to meet the demand, and last quotations are maintained

Prices to-day range as follows. Fair to good live hogs at $12 50@13 50 per hundred pounds net, and good to extra $13 75@14 50.

THE STATE.

The cotton factory in Fredericksburg, Va., owned by Shultz & Co., Baltimore, commenced operations last week.

BUREAU AGENT.—Watkins James, formerly of this county, has been appointed Bureau Agent at this place.—Woodstock Her.

Underwood is holding court in Alexandria. "Governor" Wells is there also, of course, turning an honest penny practicing his profession.

Lt. Ross, U. S. A., was garroted in Winchester, on Sunday night the 16th. His watch was "captured" by the robbers, and they escaped,

A fine vein of coal has been discovered on a tract of land near Saltville, recently sold by Wyndham Robertson to Mr. J. Smyth.—Mr. Robertson reserved the mineral right.

Col Lynch, Brevett Brig. Gen., who was ordered to duty at Woodstock as Bureau officer, has been relieved at his request, and ordered to his regiment, which is now stationed on Lake Erie.

CARRY ME BACK, &c.—McCracken & Co., of Fredericksburg, received through a New York agency the other day an application of a black woman, who, with her son, a boy of twelve or thirteen, wants to go out to service in Virginia.

CASE OF JETER PHILLIPS—WRIT OF ERROR.—In the case of James Jeter Phillips a writ of error has been granted by Judge Joynes. This carries the case to the Supreme Court of Appeals for argument at the October term.—Rich. Dispatch.

Our town is a little dull just now. The trains are running through to Mt Jackson, and consequently the travel and the employes of the road pass on through this place to the present terminus of the road, at Mt. Jackson.—Woodstock Herald.

CALL ACCEPTED.—The Rev. Mr. Pratt, of Brooklyn, New York, has signified his willingness to accept the call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, of Lexington, Va. He will enter upon the discharge of the duties of his charge early in the coming fall.

A STRAW.—On the passenger train going South from Lynchburg, on Friday evening last, a vote was taken to ascertain the preference of the passengers for the different Presidential candidates, with the following result: Gentlemen—for Seymour, 60; Grant, 4. Ladies—Seymour, 22; Grant, 4.

Negotiations have been opened between agents in New York and in Virginia for the migration and settlement there of a large Presbyterian and Methodist colony. They want about 50,000 acres of land, as compactly situated as practicable, and conveniently near to a railroad. They would expect to build a town, erect factories, churches, schools and a college, &c.

TO BE HUNG.—John Perkins, who, a short time since, broke into the dwelling of Mrs. Eliza Ford, a respectable widow lady living in Norfolk county, and with the aid of two negro accomplices, succeeded in ravishing her only daughter, and then robbed the house of all its portable valuables, has been tried, found guilty, and condemned to death. The negro boy, Ben Jefferson, who accompanied Perkins in his villainous work, was tried as an accessory before the court, and was also sentenced to be hung. The result of the trial of Arthur Elliott, the second accomplice has not been announced.

JAPAN SPRING WHEAT.—We have been presented with an ear of this variety of wheat as a sample. It is not yet mature, and looks somewhat like an ear of broom-corn seed. This ear was taken from the field of Mr. Jos. R. Garrett, near Deep creek, who has made a thus far successful experiment in growing it. The average number of grains to the ear is about 3,000, and the product upon ordinarily good wheat lands is sixty bushels to the acre. It is planted in May, and matures in September. We understand that the flour made from this wheat is of excellent quality, and very nutritious.—Norfolk Journal.

NEGRO SHOT AND PROBABLY KILLED.—Mr. George Staples shot a negro man at Concord Depot yesterday morning under the following circumstances: The negro had a wife at Mr. Staples' house, whom he was in the habit of cruelly beating and maltreating. Mr. Staples consequently forbade his visits. The negro, however, continued to come and also to beat and abuse his wife, boasting that he was not afraid of Mr. Staples, and would come when he pleased, and treat his wife as he chose. Having made his appearance again on yesterday, a difficulty ensued, in which the negro was shot by Mr. Staples. The wounded man was living when last heard from, but was in a most critical situation, and was not expected to recover.—Lynch. Rep., 21st.

MANASSAS A VILLAGE.—A correspondent of the Alexandria Gazette writes that Manassas—the village now so-called, and formerly known by the appendage of "the Junction"—is one of the few places that have grown up in the South since the war and doubtless owes the fact to the fame of the battles that have made it immortal.—Before these it was an ordinary railroad station, with a rough depot, tank and a poor "hotel." All these buildings were destroyed during the war, as also the pretty grove which gave an idea of locality to the place, now impossible to trace. And now, a little higher up than the former station, has grown up a village of respectable size, regular streets, fine building, and thrifty trade.

It has two hotels and four large stores.

There is a dentist, a physician and a lawyer resident, although the county set (Brentsville) is four miles off—but there has been strong talk of moving the same to Manassas the only place in the county claiming any title to it on account of its "size."

Capt. Gates, late of the F. B., is putting up an immense warehouse for sumac. Sumac is the staple of Manassas.

Tribute of Respect.

At a Court held for Rockingham county, on Monday, the 17th day of August, 1868, it having been announced to the Court that since its last term, O. C. STERLING, Esq., its Presiding Justice, had departed this life, and the Court holding in high esteem his private virtues and public services, deem it due to his memory and to their sense of the loss the public have sustained in his death, to enter upon the records of the Court this tribute of respect to his memory. Therefore,

Resolved, That this Court has heard with profound sorrow the announcement of the death of O. C. STERLING, Esq., for many years a Justice of this county, and for the last three years the Presiding Justice of this Court.

Resolved, That in the death of O. C. STERLING the county of Rockingham has lost one of its best citizens, add one of its wisest and purest magistrates, the community in which he lived an honest man and a Christian, and his family one of the best of husbands, parents and friends.

Resolved, That these proceedings be entered upon the record of this Court, and published in the newspapers of Harrisonburg, and that a copy be furnished by the Clerk to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That as a further mark of respect to the deceased, this Court do now adjourn until to-morrow morning.

A copy.—Teste:

L. W. GAMBILL, Clerk R. C.

On Linville's Creek, in this county, on the 16th of August, 1868, very suddenly, of inflammation of the bowels, JOHN, youngest son of John J. and Abigail Bowman, in the 10th year of his age.

WOMEN VOTING.—There is a proposition to allow women to vote before the State Convention of Texas. The majority of the committee favor the extension of the suffrage. The Houston Telegraph says: "If this measure is carried, it will make a large addition to the voting class, because it. will give suffrage to negro women, and they will exercise it. If extended to white women, they will not avail themselves of it under existing circumstances." The Telegraph says the negro is "thinking," and that he will come out against the Radicals.

THE OLD COMMONWEALTH FOR THE CAMPAIGN!

The National Democratic Convention having placed its standard-bearers in the field in opposition to Grant and Colfax, and the corruptions and usurpations of the radical party, the campaign for the next presidency may now be considered as fairly opened. There has been, in our day, no canvass so pregnant with important issues to the white race—no time when the true theory of popular government was so violently threatened—no election upon which the weal or woe of a whole people were so entirely dependent. Whether Virginia will be permitted to exercise her undoubted right of participation in the coming election, yet remains to be seen; nevertheless every intelligent citizen should desire to keep himself informed as to the progress of the campaign. To that end we propose to furnish the COMMONWEALTH from this date until the First Day of December next, for the low price of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS, IN ADVANCE. This certainly ought to place it in the hands of every reader in the county; and while no family should ever be without a paper, yet in the present great crisis of our country, it is more important than ever that sound political truth should be widely disseminated. Send in the names, accompanied with the cash, and we will endeavor to give you all the latest phases and variations of the campaign.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE DISTRICT CONFERENCE of the E. M. Church, commenced its session in this place on Thursday last. Much business of interest to the church was transacted, and the congregation edified. A goodly number of ministers and laymen were in attendance, and every evening services were held in the Methodist church.

The following gentlemen were appointed lay-delegates to the next session of the Baltimore Conference: Wm. Milnes, D. E. Strasburg, Christian Eakle, and Geo. S. Christie. Alternates: Jos. Funkhouser, Jas. Fitch, S. Whitmore and D. H. Lee Martz.

Much disappointment was manifested at the non-appearance of Bishop Doggett who it was announced would preside.

WHO SHALL BE President?—The Phrenological Journal for September contains all the Presidential candidates—Grant, Colfax, Seymour and Blair, with Portraits and concise Sketches of Biography and Character. Also, Hon. Anson Burlingame, the Chinese Minister; Franz Listz, the composer; Arminius Vanbery, the Oriental Traveler; John H. Litchfield, artist. Who are the Yankees? Use Legs and have Legs; A Key Thought; the Development Theory defined; Our Daily Lectures; A New Class in Practical Phrenology; Finding a Situation; A perfect Church on Earth—Is it possible? Only 30 cents, or $3 a year. $1 50 for half year. Address S R. Wells, 389 Broadway, New York.

SALE.—H. F. Denton, last week, sold his livery and feed stable, in this place, to Nelson Andrews & Co., by whom the business will be hereafter conducted. We understand it is Mr. Denton's intention to remove to the West. We are sorry to lose Mr. D., for although he has resided in our community but a brief season, yet he has been an energetic, pushing business man, and made hosts of friends by his straight-forward course and upright dealing. Success to the new firm.

DEMOREST'S YOUNG AMERICA for September is here, as usual, not gone Pic-nicking, although it is referred to by the Pic-nickers as a source for their amusement. If you have not seen it, you had better get a copy. 15 cents or $1 50 per year. W. Jennings Demorest, 473 Broadwater, N. Y.

For American youth and children there is no more pleasing or acceptable publication issued in this country.

RIVER BANK GOING AHEAD.—We are glad to hear that Messrs. Larkins & Ayers are selling their lots at River Bank, in this county. So far two have been sold, one to a carpenter and another to a shoemaker, and they have nine more for sale to mechanics only, and only to those who will build upon them. This is a fine opportunity for mechanics, and one, we suppose, advantage will be taken of speedily. See advertisement in this paper.

WE call attention to the advertisement of the Rockingham Female Institute Rev. P M. Custer, the Principal, is a teacher whose qualifications are of the highest order. Under his control this institution has grown in importance until it is now a first-class school, and Rockingham should be proud of it, and give it a hearty support. The rates of board and tuition are as low as can be afford.

ARTHUR'S HOME MAGAZINE, for September, is on our table with its usual variety of matter. It is one of the best of its class. Address T. S. Arthur, 811 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. $2 a year in advance.

MRS. PENDLETON BRYAN will re-open her school the first Monday in September. Mrs. Bryan is a well qualified teacher. See advertisement.

SEE the card of James O. A. Clary, Photographer, in our new advertisement columns. He will do all he promises.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Whose business is it to beautify and adorn the Academy grounds by planting trees, making fence and gates, laying off walks, etc? It is a shame that this beautiful place has not been improved long since.

The Harrisonburg Lumber Manufacturing and Merchandizing Company are doing a driving business. They furnish, at moderate rates, anything from a trundle-bed peg to a full-sized church, at short notice.—More new machinery is about being added.

A. M. Effinger, who recently purchased a portion of the Bryan land, has pulled down, rebuilt, plastered, painted and papered the old house, and it now presents a very attractive appearance.

Building material, such as plank, scantling, shingles, lathes, bricks, stone, etc., are being hauled through and about our streets daily.

A large number of buildings are in course of erection, and more are projected, some of which are under contract. The old town is literally "spreading herself." We will give a full list of the improvements of the past twelve months next week.

The Valley Virginian says we are a temperance man. We thought the same of the editor of the Virginian until we saw him *rum*aging around after a District Elector.

Repairs are to be commenced very soon upon Andrew Chapel, the property of the M. E. Church, South. This can readily be made one of the handsomest houses of worship in the Valley. We are gratified to hear of this intention to repair this eligible church building, as the winter will soon be here, and the bad walk up the hill renders the church almost inaccessible in winter.

It is thought that the pulpit of the Lutheran Church will be supplied regularly after September.

S. M. Bowman has nearly completed his fine residence west side of town. It is a handsome building, and its internal arrangement is the best we have ever seen.—The house was designed by Mr. Bowman himself, and the carpenter work has been well done by Messrs. Jones & McAlister, of this place.

We wish the Rad's would hurry up and furnish the poor negroes with the "forty acres and a mule," if they ever intend to.—Numbers of them are waiting, we know, by the way they stand about idle, or are seen in groups playing marbles in the back alleys of this town.

Is Pete Kurtz playing "Funny Boy" for the Valley Virginian, at Staunton? If not, the editor is stealing Pete's thunder.—Which?

The Methodist District Conference closed its labors in this place on the 22nd.

The Sabbath Schools in this place are very well attended. For the good accomplished, it is the cheapest institution in the world.

Why don't the young men put up a Seymour and Blair pole and flag in town?

All the horses and buggies of our livery stables were in use to carry the crowd who went to Mt. Crawford camp meeting on Saturday and Sunday last. Livery charges reached the moderate figure of $7 a day.

Will Bro. Crutchfield please send us No. 2 of the Pastime? The paper is so valuable we are not disposed to lose a single number. We are proud of the Pastime, as a Southern literary paper, and bespeak for it a large share of patronage from our friends.

The corn needs rain very badly, but the prospect for rain is good, and may be in time to save much of the late corn. If it does not come very soon the late corn will be very poor, indeed.

The Mayor has had his hands full for a few days past. He dispatches business in a hurry, and it would be a heavy docket that would detain him long. Several assault and battery cases, up on Saturday, were sent over to the next grand jury of the Hustings Court.

H. Dreyfous is offering goods very low.—Though this house has not been long established here, yet they are selling out quite rapidly, and have demonstrated their ability to sell cheap. Give them a call, next door to Ott's new drug store building.

A walk around the city shows there has been a vast deal of improving done this season, and much yet in progress.

S. J. Price, the ink man, understands advertising. He appeared on the streets, a few days since, with a wheelbarrow containing a cask of ink, also, a number of bottles of the same. The vehicle had high sideboards, upon which were posters, giving an outline of the article for sale. He thus passed through the principal streets dealing out his "royal purple," much to the amusement of many. After completing his tour the indefatigable dealer started a train to the camp ground about Mt. Crawford, where he was also quite successful. Such energy deserves success.

Butter is very scarce. How it is we cannot explain. There has been an advance of a couple of cents per pound, in the last few days.

Water-melons, musk-melons, cantelopes, etc., have been in market very plentifully for several weeks past. Those coming in now are very good.

WE are informed that Maj. Johnson intends to commence the erection of the depot building at this place at once. The work will be given to our town mechanics, and the specifications are about ready for inspection. The depot building is to be of brick, 100 by 40 feet. We are requested to say to our farmers that cross-ties are needed, and the cash will be paid for all delivered from this time to the 15th of October.—Bring them in and get your money. It is determined to run the cars to Harrisonburg by the 1st of December, if it requires work both night and day, and we know Maj. Johnson's energy will permit of no failure.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for September has been received, and is a choice number.—This old and popular magazine maintains its reputation as a first-class periodical. No lady's boudoir is furnished without Godey's book is there found. Subscriptions may commence at any time, and back number can always be supplied. Single copy $3 per year. Address L. A. Godey, 53 corner Sixth and Chestnut street's, Philadelphia.

WE learn that there was a very large attendance at the camp-meeting, near Mt. Crawford, on Saturday and Sunday last.—Also, that general good order prevailed, and that the prospect for the accomplishment of much good is encouraging.

Somebody has been punching the Valley Virginian. The last number was very spirited.

PROMPT PAYMENT.—It always gives us pleasure to commend a good institution of any kind, and, we are sure, all our readers will agree with us that the following act of generosity demonstrates clearly that the Piedmont Life Insurance Company is one of the very best institutions of the kind in the land. Last week we published a notice of the death of John C. Mauck, of this place, who had his life insured for $1,000, a few months since, by Mr. R. H. Stratton, agent for thi sCompany.

The President of the Company, W. C. Carrington, and the Agent, Mr. Stratton, were on their way to the Valley when they heard of Mr. Mauck's death, and since arriving here have given a check for the amount of the insurance, $1,000, to Mr. Mauck's friends, but according to the laws of the Company they were not obliged to pay the money until the expiration of ninety days.

This act of promptness upon the part of the Piedmont Life Insurance Company will no doubt be of service to the Company in procuring a number of policies from among our citizens, and as there is no question as to the reliability of the company, we hope they may succeed in securing a great many.

This is a Southern Company, and there is no use in paying money to Northern companies when we have prompt and responsible companies of our own.

Mr. Stratton whilst in town will be pleased to take policies of all who wish their lives insured, or rather an insurance against destitution and want to the mother and little ones in case of the death of the head of the family.

THE truly amiable Valley Virginian "fellow" that does up the brilliant and spicy paragraphs in that "city" sheet, seems much disgruntled at the favorable notice which we gave of the "great flood" in the "city," and works himself up and tears his hair over it. We feel greatly distressed at this result. We are an unsophisticated editor of a "village" paper, and, just to think, when we were trying to be "witty," we should have innocently offended the dignity of the big "city," and incurred the direful wrath of the big "fellow" that holds the reigns of one of the "city" papers. We feel mighty bad about all this, and have a notion to take it all back Feeling rather penitent, and being willing further to "lift the veil," we are about ready to admit that Noah's flood was a mere circumstance—that Staunton is a very big "city," and that a big "joke" is highly appreciated by the "city" papers, (see Virginian,) and we are almost willing to admit that the grass won't grow in the "city" streets when the trade which has kept Staunton alive ebbs away from it, and flows to this "village." Do you see the "joke," Sandy? Is the "veil" lifted?—What is the state of the water in Lewis creek?

The Town Council met yesterday evening, and passed an ordinance against feeding stock in the streets, against defacing or destroying handbills, and decided to erect street lamps at once, in our town. The grading and curbing of the walk to the Cemetery is rapidly progressing, and the lumber is being delivered for the bridge on German street. The members of the Council are moving in the right direction, and we congratulate them upon their efforts to improve the town.

R. G. COAKLEY, for eight years past a Deputy Sheriff of this county, has, we are sorry to learn, resigned. He was an excellent and popular officer. Abram Hess has been appointed in his place by Sheriff Allebaugh.

We are informed that several Northern gentlemen, and one or two of our citizens, propose erecting an agricultural manufactory near the depot this fall, on an extensive scale.

The quarterly term of the County Court of Rockingham is still in session. Much business has been done.

A CRASH.—The floor of one side of Jones' outer ware-room gave way a day or two since, caused by the great weight of Fertiling compound he has in store.

BRAVE HEARTS.

The maid who binds her warrior's sash,
And, smiling, all her pain dissembles,
The while beneath the drooping lash,
One pearly tear drop hangs and trembles,
Though Heaven alone records the tear,
And fame shall never know her story,
Her heart has shed a drop as dear
As e'er bedewed the field of glory.

The mother who conceals her grief,
As to her heart her son she presses,
Then breathes a few brave words and brief,
Kissing the patriot boy she blesses;
With no one but her secret God,
To know the pain that weighs upon her,
Sheds holy blood as e'er the sod
Received upon the field of honor!

The wife who girds her husband's sword,
Mid littles ones who weep and wonder,
Then bravely speaks her parting word,
Although her heart be torn asunder,
Doomed nightly, in her dreams to hear
The bolts of war around him rattle,
Has shed as sacred blood as e'er
Was poured upon the field of battle.

Pleasure unattained is the hare which we hold in chase, cheered on by the ardor of competition, the exhilarating cry of the dogs, the shouts of the hunters, the echo of the horn, and the ambition of being in at the death. A FUTURE STATE.—'Miss Nippers, do you believe in a future state?' asked Rev. Mr. Seekwell, at a sewing circle the other night, as the two sat in the corner—Miss N. having just finished an embroidered flannel waistcoat to be sent to the Bareside Indians, in the far-off Lower Down Islands.

'Dear me! Mr. Seekwell, how can you suppose I believe in anything else? I would'nt live a single woman all my life for the whole world!' was the innocent reply.

Mr. Seekwell was observed to squeeze her right hand very decidedly, and immediately suggested a benediction to the society. Miss Nippers didn't have to go home alone that night—not much.

Democratic National Convention.

THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party, in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism, and discriminating justice of the people; standing upon the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war, or the voluntary action of the Southern States in constitutional convention assembled, and never to be renewed or reagitated, do, with the return of peace, demand;

First. Immediate restoration of all the States to their rights in the Union, under the Constitution, and of civil government to the American people.

Second. Amnesty for all past political offences, and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

Third. Payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable; all moneys drawn from people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government, economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment—and where the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face, or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought, in right and in justice, be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

Fourth. Equal taxation of every species of property according to its real value, including Government bonds and other public securities.

Fifth One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the office holder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bondholder.

Sixth. Economy in the administration of the Government; the reduction of the standing army and navy; the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to secure negro supremacy; simplification of the system, and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue, so that the burden of taxation may be equalized and lessened; the credit of the Government and the currency made good; the repeal of all enactments for enrolling the State militia into national forces in time of peace, and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports, and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures, and as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon, and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

Seventh. Reform of abuses in the administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from office, the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to and the independence of the executive and judicial departments of the Government, the subordination of the military to civil power, to the end that the usurpations of Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native born citizens at home and abroad, the assertion of American nationality which shall command the respect of foreign powers, and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty, and individual rights, and the maintainance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance, and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crimes committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the Radical party for its disregard of right, and the unparalleled oppression and tyranny which have marked its career.

After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated the most sacred pledge under which alone was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory.

Instead of restoring the Union, it has, so far as its power, dissolved it, and subjected ten States in time of profound peace to military despotism and negro supremacy; it has nullified there the right of trial by jury—it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty—it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press—it has substituted arbitrary seizures, and arrests, and military trials and secret star chamber inquisitions for the constitutional tribunals—it has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from searches and seizures—it has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specific charge or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law—it has converted the American Capitol into a bastile—it has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort—it has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme judicial tribunal and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subjected to the most atrocious calumnies, merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President—its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created by the war—it has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment, even of his Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next and inaugurate its President, we will meet as a subjected and conquered people amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution—and we do declare and resolve that ever since the people threw off all subjection to the British Crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States and have been granted, regulated, and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and that any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with its exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of Government and can only end in a single centralized and consolidated Government in which the separate existence of the States will be entirely absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of coequal States—and that we regard the reconstruction acts (so called) of Congress as usurpations, and unconstitutional, revolutionary, and void—that our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must ever be gratefully remembered, and all the guaranties given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely as possible among the people, and should be disposed of in reasonable either under the preemption of homestead lands or sold quantities, and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed, necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of the sale of such land, and not the lands themselves, should be so applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, in exercising the power of his high office in resisting the aggressions of Congress upon the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and in behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including the Conservative element, and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people, and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship, and hail all such cooperating with us as friends and brethren.
